RETROACTIVE CLAUSE.

Republican Senators Decide to Strike It Out.

DEMOCRATIC MEMBERS NOTIFIED.

In View of This Promise, the Democra's How They View the Action of the House Democrats.

WASHINGTON, April 22.-The Republican members of the finance committee of the senate have reached an agree-Lucas county treasurer's safe, and had ment either to strike out the retroactive provision of the Dingley tariff bill or so to amend it as to paye the way for its being stricken out in conference and not to press the Vest resolution on the subject of Secretary Gage's recent circular. This was one of the accomplishments of the visit of the Republican members to the senate noted in these dispatches yesterday.

opposition would place them in the light of acting under fire and taking a position because of the criticisms of the day and night men as to which should opposition. They therefore asked that go back to work first. The result was the Democrats keep their hands off until the Republicans should have an opportunity to make their intentions known. The Democrats considered this proposition as reasonable and agreed to refrain from pressing consideration of the Vest resolution until the result of the labors of the Republican members could be known.

While not absolutely decided be-tween the material modification of th provision and its complete cancellation the balance of opinion in the committee is understood to be quite on the side of destroying it entirely. The Democratic senators generally believe this will be the result of the commit-tee's deliberations and expect that when the bill is handed to them the clause will have disappeared.

Washington, April 22.—There has been some discussion of the probable program of the Democratic members of the finance committee with reference to the tariff bill, and it is learned to the tariff bill and the t that while their plans are not definitely matured they intend to have reasonable consideration of the bill in committee and believe that they will have the support of Senator Jones of Nevada upon any fair proposition they submit. The Democrats do not want an extended consideration in committee, but may desire to offer some amendments after they have seen the bill, the adoption of which they consider they would be more likely to secure in the committee than in the open senate.

It is said that in the senate the Democratic plan is not to delay the bill any longer than is necessary, but that senator desiring to discuss it shall have the opportunity to do so and that such record making votes as the Democrats think necessary shall be Fannie Watkins and Jack Sage of had. He Made a Breezy Speech Against Old Fogy Rules.

WASHINGTON, April 22. - Senator Mason (Ills.) has made his maiden speech in the senate and signalized it by some breezy criticism on the rules of the senate. The speech was in support of a resolution introduced by the Illinois senator directing the committee on rules to report a rule by which debate could be closed and the previous question ordered. In this connection Mr. Mason sarcastically referred to the inaction of the senate on all great questions before it; the long and fruitless debate on Cuba; the delay of the arbitration treaty and the inability to say whether our difficulties are to be settled by arbitration or by the methods of Corbett and Fitzsimmons. It was time, he said, to send the senate into drydock and rid it of accumulated bar-

REED AND LABOR LEADERS.

An Extended Conference Had-Advised

WASHINGTON, April 22. - Speaker Reed has informed President Gompers and a delegation from the American Federation of Labor who called to urge the enacement of labor legislation by congress that the house would enact no legislation till the tariff question was settled and urged the delegation to work among laboring men in behalf of a sentiment that would bring about early action on this important

Mr. Gompers said that there was great distress throughout the country and many unemployed and expressed a hope that congress would do all in its power to alleviate the distress. He remarked that there had not been as much legislation in the interest of labor by the last congress as the laboring men wished. They did not want to be put in the light of making demands upon congress, they merely desired to express their wishes. They regretted have so notified the Democratic members of the committee. The Democrats strictly enforced in its application to have agreed, in view of this promise, government works. They described it to be understood, however, that they were antagonistic to revolutionary leaders and believed in lawful and orderly agitation and in the improvement of existing conditions by legis lation.

Speaker Reed in reply expressed appreciation of the moderate and reasonable attitude of the laboring men. The labor organization, he said, was a necessary concomitant of the factory system. While in the old days laborers had been individually independent, th growth of the factory system had forced them to organize for the preservation of their rights and interests. He be lieved that results beneficial to human ity were coming from those organiza-tions. While reforms of the class they spoke of moved slowly they did move. Public sentiment was now much more tolerant of the eight-hour law than it had been ten years ago. He could re-member when every laboring man was expected to work 12 hours. Public sentiment had much to do with the enforcement of the eight-hour law, and he has no doubt that under its impulse conditions were continually improving

In response to the complaint that the ast congress had not done enough for last congress had not done enough for labor, Mr. Reed said that remonstrances had been received by him complaining that congress had been too much under the domination of the Federation of Labor. This fact would illustrate that there were conflicting ideas in the country. In conclusion, Mr. Reed ex pressed approval of the policy adopt by the Federation. A continual and constant pressure within the law was much more effective in securing reforms than violent methods, he said Violence always brought a reaction and the reforms sought were likely to be lost in the turmoil of the outbreak.

The labor leaders urged Gardner (N. J.) for a place on the labor committee and the speaker said he would con

Republican Senators Decide to Strike It Out.

In View of This Promise, the Democra Will Not Pass the Vest Resolution. How They View the Action of the House Democrats.

WASHINGTON, April 22.-The Republican members of the finance committee of the senate have reached an agreement either to strike out the retroactive provision of the Dingley tariff bill or so to amend it as to paye the way for its being stricken out in conference and have so notified the Democratic members of the committee. The Democrats strictly enforced in its application to have agreed, in view of this promise, not to press the Vest resolution on the subject of Secretary Gage's recent circular. This was one of the accomplishments of the visit of the Republican members to the senate noted in these dispatches yesterday.

The sentiment among the Republican members is said to have been against the provision from the first, but they felt that to take decisive advance action upon it in the face of Democratic from Middletown, Pa., and so notified the management.

Then a squabble arose among the position because of the criticisms of the opposition. They therefore asked that til the Republicans should have an opportunity to make their intentions known. The Democrats considered known. The Democrats considered this proposition as reasonable and agreed to refrain from pressing consideration of the Vest resolution until the result of the labors of the Republican members could be known.

While not absolutely decided be-tween the material modification of th provision and its complete cancellation the balance of opinion in the commit-tee is understood to be quite on the side of destroying it entirely. The Democratic senators generally believe this will be the result of the commit-tee's deliberations and expect that when the bill is handed to them the clause will have disappeared.

Washington, April 22.—There has been some discussion of the probable program of the Democratic members of the finance committee with reference to the tariff bill, and it is learned that while their plans are not definitely sane last Sunday, he said he was $20,000 short, but no mention was made of it.

The commissioners notified the county prosecutor to file information with upon any fair proposition they submit. The Democrats do not want an extended consideration in committee, but may desire to offer some amendments after they have seen the bill, the adop-tion of which they consider they would be more likely to secure in the committee than in the open senate.

It is said that in the senate the Democratic plan is not to delay the bill any longer than is necessary, but that every senator desiring to discuss it shall have the opportunity to do so and that such record making votes as the Democrats think necessary shall be Fannie Watkins and Jack Sage of had. This policy the Democrats will lima, O., have been shot here by Clinit may be stated that the Democrats of the senate do not approve of the policy of Mr. Bailey and his fellow Democrats of the house. Attention is called to the fact that it was long ago said that the policy Speaker Reed and the Republicans of the house are pursuing would be followed in order to direct attention to the delay of the tariff bill in the sen-

If delay should ensue by reason of debate by Democratic senators, it will be pointed out, Democratic senators say, that this delay is not endorsed by the majority of the Democrats of the house. The Bailey Democrats will be endorsing the Republicans in their criticisms of the Democratic senators. It is not known whether or not the advice managers have decided to reduce the which the Democratic senatorial leaders wages of ore handlers for unloading ore are freely giving the Democrats of the house will be taken, but it is known that house Democrats have been advised that acquiescence in the Republican tactics is not good policy. The Democratic senators do not want criticisms which may be directed at them, to be indirectly endorsed by the Demo-cratic members of the house.

> MASON ATTACKED THE SENATE. He Made a Breezy Speech Against Old Fogy Rules.

Washington, April 22. — Senator Mason (Ills.) has made his maiden speech in the senate and signalized it by some breezy criticism on the rules of the senate. The speech was in support of a resolution introduced by the Illinois senator directing the committee on rules to report a rule by which debate could be closed and the previous question ordered. In this connection Mr. Mason sarcastically referred to the inaction of the senate on all great questions before it; the long and fruitless debate on Cuba; the delay of the arbitration treaty and the inability to say whether our difficulties are to be settled by arbitration or by the methods of Corbett and Fitzsimmons. It was time, he said, to send the senate into drydock and rid it of accumulated bar-

REED AND LABOR LEADERS.

An Extended Conference Had-Advised

Washington, April 22. - Speaker Reed has informed President Gompers and a delegation from the American Federation of Labor who called to urge the enacement of labor legislation by congress that the house would en-DEMOCRATIC MEMBERS NOTIFIED, act no legislation till the tariff question was settled and urged the delegation to work among laboring men in behalf of a sentiment that would bring about early action on this important matter.

Gompers said that there was great distress throughout the country and many unemployed and expressed a hope that congress would do all in its power to alleviate the distress. He remarked that there had not been as much legislation in the interest of labor by the last congress as the laboring men wished. They did not want to be put in the light of making demands upon congress, they merely desired to express their wishes. They regretted government works. They described it to be understood, however, that they were antagonistic to revolutionary leaders and believed in lawful and orderly agitation and in the improve ment of existing conditions by legis-

Speaker Reed in reply expressed ap preciation of the moderate and reason able attitude of the laboring men. Th labor organization, he said, was a necessary concomitant of the factory sys-tem. While in the old days laborers had been individually independent, the growth of the factory system had forced them to organize for the preservation of their rights and interests. He be lieved that results beneficial to human tiv were coming from those organiza-tions. While reforms of the class they spoke of moved slowly they did move. Public sentiment was now much more tolerant of the eight-hour law than i had been ten years ago. He could re member when every laboring man was expected to work 12 hours. Public sentiment had much to do with the enforcement of the eight-hour law, and he has no doubt that under its impulse conditions were continually improving In response to the complaint that the last congress had not done enough for labor, Mr. Reed said that remonstrances had been received by him complaining that congress had been too much under the domination of the Federation of Labor. This fact would illustrate that there were conflicting ideas in the country. In conclusion, Mr. Reed e pressed approval of the policy adop by the Federation. A continual and constant pressure within the law was much more effective in securing reforms than violent methods, he said Violence always brought a reaction and the reforms sought were likely to be lost in the turmoil of the outbreak. The labor leaders urged Gardner (N. J.) for a place on the labor committee and the speaker said he would con-

DISAPPOINTING TO ARTHUR. He Don't Like the Decision Regarding

Engineer Lennon CLEVELAND, April 22.—Chief P. M. Arthur of the Brotherhood of Locome tive Engineers feels very much disap pointed over the action of the suprem court in the case of Engineer Lennon who was fined $60 for contempt of cour in the Ann Arbor strike of 1893.

Said he: "Engineer Lennon was aware that an injunction had been issued but had not been served with copy of the proceedings. His crime consisted in leaving his train on the track when he discovered that he had an Ann Arbor car in it. We carried the case to the highest tribunal in the land and bow to the court's decision.

"The supreme court's decision sustaining the contempt proceedings establishes the fact that it is not an em ployes action in quitting work, but the manner in which it is done that constitutes contempt. All decisions hold that an individual has a right to leave the employ of another, but the manner of quitting must be guarded.'

He asked me what my symptoms were and I explained to him that I had suffered for a number of years from my kidneys, that I would have attacks at times when nothing would help me and it was agony for me to get around, but that I could not endure idleness. The secretions from the kidneys were very high colored and aciduous, that I had spells of dizziness, when I would see black specks floating before my eyes, and felt generally broken up. He looked up and said that broken up. He looked up and said that he had the very thing I needed to cur me in the house--Doan's Kidney Pills He went into the house and brought m out eight pills. I took them with me and used them two at a dose. The effect was astonishing to me. I felt it almost at once, and went to the W. and W. Pharmacy and bought a box and took them. The encouragement held out t me by the first eight pills was not myth ical, as by their continued use the improvement continued, and I consider expression of praise too strong for Doan's Kidney Pills; in short, they are Ne Plus Ultra.
